Testimonial for Mr. Moataz Sayed Hamza by Ms. Kelly Walsh

In 2017, I was offered an investment opportunity that was paying out monthly dividends at 10% of the total capital invested. I work hard for my income and savings, am a parent, and had received a settlement following an accident that I was involved in and I needed to grow it carefully. I couldn't afford to lose money on a bad investment and most certainly couldn't afford to be defrauded out of me and my family's savings.

While it sounded too good to be true, I heard from a lot of people in my circle of friends and coworkers who had invested in that Company, which was called NL Technologies. Eventually, in May of 2016 I was put in touch with someone connected to the company and, they convinced me the investment was sound. So, after that meeting, I invested $125,000.

For the First few months I was receiving dividends without any issues, and everything seemed fine. But then, around April of 2017, I started hearing that there may be some issues with the company or its owners and I immediately became concerned. I asked some questions of the contacts I had at the Company as well as those who had referred them to me but their responses didn't placate my concerns. When I asked them to return my investment they started telling me that its difficult for them to just pull my money out on such short notice and promised me that my dividends would continue but they couldn't return my investment on such short notice. Their response of course made me seriously worry.

After their response I started expressing my concerns regarding the investment to a friend who advised me to talk to an attorney, and mentioned they had worked with an attorney in San Diego who had helped them with their legal problems effectively and with sincerity. That attorney was Mr. Hamza. So, by March of 2017, I called Mr. Hamza and explained the situation to him. He understood my concern and made himself available to meet me at his office right away on very short notice.

When I came to Mr. Hamza's office I explained to him the situation and expressed all my concerns. He listened carefully and showed great care for my concerns and my financial well-being. I provided him with the names of the people I knew of as being tied to the Company and he immediately started investigating them while I was seated in his office. Right away he expressed a serious concerns about his initial findings. He asked me what I wanted and I told him that all I wanted was my investment back in full. He told me he couldn't guarantee any outcomes but promised me he would do his best. I retained Mr. Hamza and left his office just praying I'd get as much of my investment back as possible.

Within a couple of days Mr. Hamza had made contact with the persons who were holding themselves out as the shareholders and executives of the Company, and made a demand for the return of my investment in full. Mr. Hamza kept me informed of every step he took and his findings right away and answered my calls and my emails immediately. Within about 10 days after retaining Mr. Hamza, he was able to compel the individuals involved to return my investment in full. After I received my money in full I was relieved and felt a great deal of appreciation and gratitude for Mr. Hamza. I've thanked him many times since, and stayed in touch with him over the years.

What stood out for me during Mr. Hamza's work was his professionalism and judgment. He was always consistent, and it turned out later on that he was dealing with individuals who were running a complicated Ponzi scheme and, had he not moved fast and effectively I may have never recovered my earnest investment again, as everyone involved in that Company ended up being arrested for fraud and went to jail.
